

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

The American Law of Real Property.

1902.

Written by EMORY WASHBURN, Bussey Professor of Law, Harvard.

Edited with exhaustive and up-to-date annotations, by JOHN WURTS, Professor of Real Property Law at Yale.

COMPLETE in its Plan and Treatment,

AUTHORITATIVE in its Statement of the Law.

THOROUGHLY REVISED, it continues to be the best book upon the subject.

THE large additions and important changes made by Prof. Wurts, in order to make the book thoroughly present the American Law of Real Property as it is to-day, have rendered it necessary to entirely reset the whole work, making it rather a new book than a new edition.

The work in every way has been most carefully done, editor and printer co-operating to put before the profession this standard work in a manner worthy of its high reputation, and one calculated to make it still more the one indispensable book on real property.

"His work has almost superseded every other and stands quite without a rival."—Hon. JOHN F. DILLON.

The old division into books and sections has been discarded and the more convenient way of numbering the sections continuously throughout the book substituted.

All verbal changes for the sake of clearness or brevity and all the editor's original work are shown by the brackets.

Great care has been used in citing authorities to include all important decisions made since the last edition of the book (1886), and references are made to the Reporters.

The necessary compilations of statutes are full and adequate.

A Treatise on THE AMERICAN LAW OF REAL PROPERTY, By EMORY WASHBURN, LL.D.

SIXTH EDITION. Edited by JOHN WURTS, A.M., LL.D.

THREE VOLUMES, 8vo, SHEEP, - - PRICE, $18 NET.

A TREATISE ON GUARANTY INSURANCE, Including therein as Subsidiary Branches THE LAW OF FIDELITY, COMMERCIAL, AND JUDICIAL INSURANCES. Covering all Forms of Compensated Suretyship, such as Official and Private Fidelity Bonds, Building Bonds, Court Bonds, Credit and Title Insurances.

By THOMAS GOLD FROST, Ph.D.,
of the New York Bar.

ONE VOLUME, 8vo, SHEEP, - - - - - $5.00 NET.

LITTLE BROWN & CO. Publishers

254 WASHINGTON STREET.

- - -

BOSTON, MASS.

Taylor's International Public Law

By HANNIS TAYLOR, LL. D.,

Late Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Spain:
Author of "The Origin and Growth of the English Constitution."

The most comprehensive and exhaustive treatise upon the subject of International Public Law which has appeared in this country since Dana's Wheaton, embracing as it does, in a compact and attractive form, the results of the expositions of all the notable European publicists, mediæval and modern, English and Continental.

There is an originality of thought, a breadth of comprehension, and a command of precedent that will bring to the learned author large praise. Its well-written pages are a mine of information in which every reader will find treasures. The work before us is of such a character as to make it indispensable to the library of publicist, lawyer, or student of politics. BALTIMORE SUN.

His discussion of the many questions which have arisen during the last fifteen or twenty years adds greatly to the value of the work, and makes it almost necessary to any one who wishes to become familiar with the latest phases of international public law.

Mr. JUSTICE BROWN, of the Supreme Court of the United States.

We must have your new text book for our law library, for the benefit of our students, and I look forward to deriving much profit from it myself. It is full of interest and sure to be useful.

THOMAS ERSKINE HOLLAND,
Professor of International Law and Diplomacy, University of Oxford.

I cannot expect to master such a colossal work as yours all at once, but I have read enough to form some idea of its completeness and usefulness.

Prof. MONTAGU BURROWS, University of Oxford.

I have seen no book on the subject which has pleased and impressed me as much.

RALEIGH C. MINOR, Professor of International Law, University of Virginia.

All students of international law will welcome Mr. Taylor's notable contribution to the literature of the subject. His diplomatic experience qualified him to write the work, which has been much needed.

Prof. HENRY ROGERS, of Yale University.

In this notable book on International Public Law he has rendered a timely public service of the most wide-reaching importance.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

It is the first work on International Public Law to incorporate in its text the results of the Peace Conference at The Hague. His whole volume is characterized by a breadth and clearness, as well as by a comprehensiveness and modernity, that must render it indispensable to students of international law.

CHICAGO RECORD-HERALD.

Like his great predecessor, Henry Wheaton, Mr. Taylor presents a peculiarly happy combination of scholar and man of affairs.

Professor LAWRENCE B. EVANS.

Accept my cordial congratulations. It is intellectual work like yours that redeems the higher professions from utilitarianism and mammonism.

J. G. SCHURMAN, President Cornell University.

ONE VOLUME, 1000 PAGES. $6.50 NET.

CALLAGHAN & COMPANY, CHICAGO, ILL.